We guarantee safe arrival of our shipments to customers. If shipment is lost in transit or does not arrive in good order, it will be promptly replaced if possible or money refunded.

Claims for damage or unsatisfactory condition when received must be made immediately on arrival.

We are growers and have every interest in giving satisfaction and it is our intention to supply only first quality bulbs and plants. However, we give no warranty, express or implied, as to purity, description, quality, productiveness, or any other matter of any seeds, bulbs or plants we send out, and will not be in any way responsible for the crop. Purity and germination tests are information from official seed laboratories without guarantee. Deliveries on all contracts and orders not guaranteed against crop failure, fire, flood or other conditions beyond our control.

BULBS FOR FALL PLANTING

HIS list of bulbs for fall planting is carefully selected for variety and value. While we grow most of these ourselves, others listed are produced by dependable growers with whose cultures we are closely familiar. The prices this year have been drastically reduced and it is now possible to have many choice varieties that have heretofore been too expensive for garden culture.

We will be glad to quote prices on any varieties not listed herein.

OUTDOOR CULTURE OF DAFFODILS

Daffodils thrive in any good garden soil, preferably deep well-drained loam. Deep preparation of the soil is necessary, and old rotted manure or compost may be worked in 16 or 18 inches below the surface, so as not to come in direct contact with the bulbs. Fresh manure should never be used.

Plant in the early fall, especially Poeticus types. The more vigorous, larger varieties may be planted as late as December, but early planting is best.

In medium soils, cover the bulbs about twice their depth, measuring the bulb from base to shoulder, and a little deeper in the lighter soils. The average for most sorts is three to four inches from the top of the bulb. Set the bulbs at a uniform depth, otherwise they may flower irregularly.

CULTURE OF DAFFODILS IN POTS OR BOXES

Daffodils should be potted in September or October in good loamy soil, adding a little sand or leaf mould and a small amount of bone flour. (About two pounds to the bushel of soil.)

The old pots must be washed thoroughly and allowed to dry before using. New pots should be soaked. Provide drainage by placing pieces of charcoal or fragments of pots over the drainage hole. A little ground peat in the bottom regulates drainage, retaining moisture.

After ten or twelve weeks they may be removed indoors for flowering. Select the earliest varieties first, thus extending the flowering season.

Do not bring them into a warm temperature. $50 \text{ to } 60^{\circ}$ is best at first. Do not give any bottom heat. Later when the flower buds are well advanced the temperature may be increased to not more than 65° .

When the pots are first brought to the light, the tender shoots may be covered for a day or two with an inverted flower pot to prevent injury from light or drafts. A little weak liquid manure once a week, until buds burst, will hasten the flowers after growth has started.

Always have plenty of light and air.

MINIATURE DAFFODILS for the Rock, Garden

The following are charming little subjects for rock work, where their dainty flowers are seen to perfection. They should be left undisturbed for years, and if happy, will soon establish themselves and afford a lovely picture in early spring. All the Bulbocodium (except monophyllus) and the Cyclamineus like moisture, and should therefore be planted at the foot of the rockery. Bulbocodium monophyllus flourishes in a warm dry sheltered situation planted in almost pure sand; when coming into bloom, give water freely. Triandrus albus (Angel's Tears) and Juncifolius delight in partial shade and a light gritty soil and should be given a well-drained position.

DAFFODILS for NATURALIZING

AFFODILS planted in clusters in the foreground of shrubbery, or sown broadcast through woodlands, along hillsides, in meadows or lawns, and planted where they fall, give a most pleasing natural effect. They will increase in beauty and number without special care and become permanently established. In heavy soils the most vigorous varieties should be used. More pleasing effects result from grouping the various types, such as all trumpet types, all Poeticus types, etc. Special mixtures of the different groups are listed below.
